SHEEPSHEAD BAY GOSSIP.

"The meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club which closed on Saturday was the most successful ever held at Sheepshead Bay. The attendance was far above the average and the racing, with few exceptions, was of a superior quality. The only blot was the trouble over Shaw's ride on W. C. Whitney's Blue Girl in the Great Filly Stakes, but the action of the Jockey Club stewards in imposing a penalty, even though comparatively light, must have served as a warning not only to Shaw, but to several other riders who have been guilty of glaringly poor performances. It is understood that with the suspension of Shaw for the balance of the meeting there was a quiet intimation to 'Pittsburg Phil' that in future his relations with Shaw must gradually be broken off. In the light of what has happened it seems passing strange that a man who has practically no stable should have in his employ one of the best jockeys in the profession to whom is paid a salary as large as any disbursed by millionaire owners," says the New York Sun of Monday.

"Pittsburg Phil" has an ironclad contract with Shaw, yet it is only occasionally that Shaw has a mount on one of the plunger's horses. On the contrary, Shaw is almost always riding for somebody else, notably for Frank Farrell, 'Big Chief' Devery's friend. He has also ridden for Mr. Whitney, J. E. Madden, the Fleischmanns, Clarence H. Mackay and others, his services being always in demand.

"There have been rumblings among turfmen for some time past as to the relations between Shaw and 'Pittsburg Phil,' the climax being reached at Saratoga, when Shaw's ride on 'Phil's' horse, Latson, was so inefficient apparently that St. Finnan won. Some persons charged the plunger with betting on St. Finnan, but he denied that he wagered on the race and no proof could be deduced from the layer's sheets. The race had such a suspicious look that the stewards of the Coney Island Jockey Club made official reference to it in their recommendation to the Jockey Club in Shaw's case. As a result of all this business it is quite probable that the Jockey Club before another season will pass a rule to the effect that an employer of a jockey cannot be against the latter's mount when owned by another person. With such a rule in vogue, 'Pittsburg Phil' could not have placed his money on Lux Casta in the Great Filly Stakes while his jockey, Shaw, had the mount on Blue Girl.

"Though a black mark has been placed against Shaw's name, it must be said of the boy that he is well behaved, has no vices and is a money saver. He lives near Sheepshead Bay track with Wm. Smith, a brother of 'Pittsburg Phil,' and is constantly riding and working horses. He goes to bed early and is up with the first signs of dawn. Out of a big salary he sets aside $80 a month to live on and he does not exceed the limit.

"In striking contrast to Shaw, there are some jockeys who are fond of late suppers, where the wine flows and where slick gamblers can talk business with the boys, if the latter are so inclined. Dissipation has ruined many jockeys and there are a few to-day who are attempting with all their night-hawk pranks to ride horses backed by the public's hard earned money. Whatever may be said of Shaw, it cannot be denied that he is always physically and mentally fit when he climbs into the saddle in the paddock.

"The breaking down of Rockton in the $25,000 Annual Champion Stakes was not altogether unexpected. Senator Patrick H. McCarron was one of the men who figured that if Rockton went lame in his work on Thursday last he was likely to go wrong in the race itself, especially in view of the distance to be covered. So the Senator sent a $2,000 commission into the ring on Maid of Harlem, whose price was 6 to 1, with the result that when Rockton was overhauled in the stretch the tall Brooklyn politician was $12,000 richer.

"The breaking down of Rockton and Prince of Melbourne, both inside of one week, is a severe blow to the older class of horses. Nearly every performer of recognized merit has either broken down this year or gone amiss in other ways. Banastar, Ethelbert, Imp, Star Bright, Standing, Commando, Conroy, Kinley Mack, McMeekin, Raffello, Outlander and others, together with Rockton and Prince of Melbourne, all of whom were expected to perform great deeds when the season opened, have been withdrawn from the races, and all of them will be missed. In the case of Prince of Melbourne his new owner, G. Walbaum, who paid $20,000 for the colt at the sale of the Beard stable, is the real loser, inasmuch as Prince of Melbourne broke down before he could take part in any big stake event that would in the event of a victory make up the price of his purchase. He was eligible for the Annual Champion Stakes and would probably have won it had he gone to the post fit.

"It looks as if John Madden will be the leading winning owner at the end of this year's racing, for he heads the list at the Sheepshead Bay meeting, which ended on Saturday, making it the fourth time he has been in front this season. Madden won only one race at the meeting, this being Yankee's victory in the Futurity, but it was enough to put him in the lead. As several of his horses finished in the money, Madden's winnings were $36,890. The victory of Leonora Loring in the Great Filly Stakes enabled her owner L. M. Myers, to win $25,055, while by winning the Annual Champion on Saturday Maid of Harlem put her owner, T. L. Watts, who races under the name of the Osceola Stable, in third place with $22,980. The owners who won $200 or over follow:

AUTUMN HANDICAP WEIGHTS.

The Autumn Stakes, a handicap at two miles for three-year-olds and upward, will be the stake feature at Hawthorne Monday and as people who patronize racing are always pleased with contests over a long distance it should serve to attract a great attendance. Two of the horses entered are dead, Bangle and Kentucky Farmer and to the thirty-three still eligible, Secretary Clark has assigned the following weights:

Horse.	A.Wt.	Horse.	A.Wt.
Advance Guard	4 124	Sidney Lucas	4 113
Cavlar	4 115	Barrack	4 112
Robert Waddell	3 110	Frank Thompson	6 108
Florizar	4 106	Alaska	6 106
Hernando	3 105	Rifle	7 105
Star Chamber	4 105	Frangible	4 102
Flying Torpedo	3 102	Excelsis	5 102
Jack Telling	4 100	His Lordship	5 100
Argregor	3 100	Knightbanneret	4 98
The Bobby	4 98	El Caney	4 97
Ben Chance	4 95	Waldeck	4 95
Our Nellie	5 95	Indian	4 95
Monongah	5 95	Gawaine	3 93
Fox Bard	4 93	Kentucky Babe	4 92
Tammany Chief	3 92	Asim	3 90
Joseph Jefferson	5 90	Uncle Tom	3 90
Egyptian Prince	3 90

ENGLISH HANDICAPS.

American owned horses engaged in the great English autumn handicaps have been well taken care of in apportionment of weights, and if any of them win it will not be because they have been favored by the handicapper.

WEIGHTS FOR CESAREWITCH.

The Cesarewitch, which is run at Newmarket on Wednesday, October 16, is at two miles two furlongs and thirty-five yards. The topweight is Mr. George Edwards' four-year-old Santoi, winner of the Ascot cup, which is assigned 133 pounds. Next come Monsieur Ephrussi's French bred four-year-old Codoman with 131 pounds, and Mr. T. Kincaid's four-year-old Epsom Lad, winner of the two £10,000 races of the season, with 128. Our candidates are as follows:

Owners and horses.	A.Wt.
W. C. Whitney's Kilmarnock II	4 128
Lord Ellesmere's King's Courier	4 122
Foxhall Keene's Sinopi	5 121
Foxhall Keene's Cap and Bells II	3 118
Frank Gardner's Bidde	5 115
W. M. G. Singer's Jolly Tar	5 112
E. Corrigan's Sardonio II	6 106
E. Corrigan's Semper Vigilans	4 106
Foxhall Keene's Noonday II	3 104
W. C. Whitney's Elkhorn	3 104
E. Corrigan's Fancy Man	3 92
A. Covington's Dunlavin	4 91
W. C. Whitney's Petronius	3 89
A. Covington's Belo	3 84

Imposts of well known English candidates are: Parthian II, which is trained by A. Covington, 126; Mackintosh, 3, 117; William the Third, 3, 115; Fortunatus, 3, 113; Stealaway, 4, 109; Floriform, 3, 108; Sidus, 4, 106. Sidus was made favorite at 100 to 6 in the first day's betting, when Jolly Tar was supported at 100 to 3 and Semper Vigilans at 50 to 1.

Santoi also heads the long list—one hundred and thirty-four—for the Cambridgeshire, which is at one mile and 237 yards, and is scheduled for Wednesday, October 30, at Newmarket. Santoi and the French four-year-old Codoman are each assigned 131, and Epsom Lad gets 128. Our representatives fare as follows:

Owners and horses.	A.Wt.
W. C. Whitney's Kilmarnock II	4 126
J. B. Keene's Chacornac	4 124
W. C. Whitney's Volodyovski	3 122

Foxhall Keene's Noonday II	3 105
E. Corrigan's Sardonio II	6 104
E. Corrigan's Fancy Man	3 98

Prominent English candidates are Mount Prospect, aged, 123; Mackintosh, 3, 118; Simon Dale, 4, 117; William the Third, 3, 116; Veles, 3,

DALY ESTATE'S HORSES ARRIVE.

The most valuable cargo of thoroughbreds ever brought to this country arrived in New York on the steamship Minnehaha of the Atlantic Transport Line Tuesday. The chief lot consisted of forty-one brood mares, yearlings and weanlings from the stud of the late Marcus Daly at Apsfield Court, England. They will be sold at auction by Fasig, Tipton & Co. at their sale paddocks, Sheepshead Bay, on Oct. 1.

The mares include eleven which Mr. Daly selected from his Bitter Root Stud Farm and sent to England in 1899 to be bred to the most fashionable sires in England, and nine of the best brood mares that he could purchase in England. Among the sires which the mares visited in England are such noted ones as St. Simon, Melton, Ladas and Orme, sire of Flying Fox.

The horses were in charge of Dr. Haggard on the trip and in spite of the fact that there was a severe storm on one day, not one of them was sick for an hour of the voyage. Among the most notable of the American mares is Lady Reel, the dam of Hamburg, while Lucy Cross and Cambushinnie are considered two choice ones of the English lot. The following is a full list of the consignment:

American mares—Lady Reel, bay (1886), by Fellowcraft—Mannie Gray; Workmate, bay (1887), by Bulwark—Longmate; Puritan Lass, bay (1889), by Spendthrift—Phoebe Mayflower; Anna Gray, bay (1889), by Free Knight—Alice Gray; La Belle III, bay (1891), by Onondaga—Aileen; Lela Dell, bay (1893), by Hanover—Meriden; Elizabeth L., chestnut (1890), by Woodlands—Ballet; Semper Cara, bay (1891), by King Alfonso—La Sylphide; Semper Fidele, bay (1888), by Longfellow—La Sylphide; Affatus, chestnut (1893), by Inverness—Affinity; Lizzie D., brown (1887), by Onondaga—Spaldie; Pocahontas, bay (1891), by Duke of Montrose—Helewa.

English Mares—Lucy Cross, bay (1891), by St. Simon—Verdigris; L'Esclave, bay (1893), by St. Serf—Pauline; Argenta, bay (1893), by Pioneer—Granite; Optime, bay (1896), by Orme—Euclid's dam; Hermia, chestnut (1885), by Hermit—Tizona; Cambushinnie, brown (1889), by Hampton—Rudstone; Field Azure, bay (1889), by Ben d'Or—Falaise; Ste. Lucie, chestnut (1896), by Ayrshire—Sta. Agatha; Dorothea, chestnut (1885), by Sterling—Cherry Duches.

Two-year-old—Bay colt, by Isinglass—Lucy Cross, unbroken.

Yearlings—Bay colt, by Melton—Argenta; bay colt, by Melton—Semper Cara; bay filly, by St. Frusquin—Semper Fidele; brown filly, by St. Simon—Lady Reel; chestnut colt, by Ayrshire—L'Esclave; bay colt, by Raeburn—Affatus; bay colt, by St. Serf—La Belle; bay colt, by Donovan—Hermia; chestnut filly, by Orion—Ste. Lucie.

Weanlings—Bay colt, by Raeburn—Workmate; chestnut filly, by Melton—Pocahontas; brown filly, by St. Frusquin—Semper Fidele; bay filly, by Melton—Semper Cara; bay colt, by Orme—Cambushinnie; bay colt, by St. Simon—Field Azure; brown filly, by St. Simon—Lady Reel; bay filly, by St. Serf—Lela Dell; bay or brown colt, by Ayrshire—Lizzie D.; bay colt, by Donovan—La Belle III.; chestnut colt, by Grey Leg—Argenta.

In addition to the above there were four thoroughbreds belonging to James R. Keene, a chestnut mare by Bend Or, a bay mare by Isonomy and the two three-year-olds, Runaway Girl and Climax. The two latter were sent to England to race, but did not make a good showing. John Miller took charge of Mr. Keene's horses and as soon as they are rested they will be sent to the Castleton Stud at Lexington, Ky., for breeding purposes.

ENGLISH HANDICAPS.

113; The Raft, 4, 112; Good Luck, 5, 112; Floriform, 3, 109; Handicapper, 3, 109; Revenue, 3, 108; Lord Bobs, 3, 108; Stealaway, 4, 106; Aquascutum, 4, 105; Sidus, 4, 105; Alvescot, 4, 101. French candidates are Semendria, 4, 125; Saxon, 3, 122; La Camargo, 3, 119; Cap Martin II., 4, 114; Matvesin, 5, 112; Dorus II., 3, 107.

The English three-year-old Doricles was assigned 111 pounds, but, by the conditions of the race his Cambridgeshire impost is raised to 124. Alvescot and The Raft were even favorites at 25 to 1 in the first day's betting, in which the only American candidate supported was Caiman at 100 to 3.

Although lacking in the traditional importance of either the Cesarewitch or Cambridgeshire, the most valuable of the English Fall Handicaps is the $10,000 Duke of York Stakes, run at Kempton Park on Saturday, October 12. The distance is a mile and a quarter and Santoi is topweight with 130 pounds. Our representatives are weighted as follows:
